

Peptide Information/Quick Order Form

- NAD+ - stands for nicotinamide adenine dinucleotide and naturally exists in all living cells in our bodies. It helps convert food into energy, fights physical effects of aging, lowers levels of fat cells, combats chronic fatigue by providing immediate energy, and fights autoimmune and anti-inflammatory diseases.
- Sermorelin – Sermorelin stimulates the pituitary gland to release growth hormone. In fact, the 1st 29 amino acids of Sermorelin are the same as HGH chain's 1st 29 amino acids. Another great alternative to HGH, this peptide decreases body fat and helps with weight loss, increase muscle strength and size, improved cognitive health, libido, and overall energy levels. Sermorelin also improves skin quality by combating the aging process and helping skin become fuller and firmer thus helping to reduce the appearance of wrinkles.
